

LOEW FOR COMPTROLLER.

VACCINATING SALES GIRLS.

Said to Be Tammany's Choice for the Office.

Feltner or Weeks May Be Named for District-Attorney.

Richard Croker, who is probably the one man in the city who could tell the nominees of the City and County Convention of Tammany Hall to-night will be won't tell, and all the state-makers can do it to make guess. Here are their latest guess:

For Comptroller—Edward V. Loew.

For Surrogate—William J. Lardner or J. H. V. Arnold.

For District-Attorney—Thomas L. Feltner or Bartow S. Weeks.

For Judge of the Court of Common Pleas—Miles Beach.

For Sheriff, John B. Sexton or Thomas L. Feltner or Lawrence Deinor.

For City Court Judges, Charles M. Gifford or John C. Lee.

For Coroners—No selections.

Loew is very strongly tipped; in fact, he was the only man spoken of for Comptroller, but he has not been mentioned.

Loew has been to see Croker several times of late, and it is given out that the conditions on which Loew could have his place were discussed.

Loew is the most available organization man at present; that is, a man who would take orders from Croker, and the back way to the Comptroller's office to suit Tammany Hall. He is not in any business. The brick manufacturing company of which he was President failed him.

He has been making arrangements to organize a real estate guarantee and trust company, but it is said he will give up the idea if he can't get the Comptroller's place.

Loew was the first Comptroller under the law making the office elective. He was elected by a wide majority, chosen by Theodore W. Myers, the present incumbent.

The nomination of Peter F. Meyer, Croker's reputed business partner, is said to be out of the question, and J. Edward Simmon's health is not in condition to permit him to take the office.

J. Edward Simmon and H. McMillan are mentioned as possibilities, but there is a possibility, too, that the man to be nominated has not been mentioned.

The Executive Committee of Tammany Hall will meet here this afternoon of from 4 to 6 P.M. for Comptroller.

W. J. Lardner, spoken of for Surrogate, has been placed in the event of Judge Beach's having no mate way for him according to the knowing ones.

A shift has been made by the state-mates for Charles E. Clark.

Sexton is his favorite both for Sheriff, so they have given Clancy to a City Court Judgehip, leaving Louis J. Conlan out in the cold.

Others say that Conlan will get a Judgehip and that it is a very close race between Sexton and Clancy for Sheriff.

Tammany is playing a very shrewd game of politics and paving the way for a walkover for its nominees, no matter what the other parties do.

All threatened opposition has been done away with. McManus and the Murrys will not oppose them in the Eighth District, and the McManuses and Murrys will eventually join Tammany Hall, and Henry E. Murray will succeed Senator Plunkitt as a member.

Otto Kempner has not succeeded in making a deal with the Republicans in the Annexed District, the anti-Tammany movement having been too strong, and the final coup of Tammany was consummated this morning. Michael Fenton, a labor leader and possible Republican candidate for the annexed district, the eighth District, was gathered into the Wigwam.

The announcement made by Interior Attorney Neill that he would not be a candidate for renomination will not surprise his intimate friends.

On Thursday afternoon, it is stated that he had called on his friends to his office four of his assistants, and announced to them that he had fully made up his mind not to seek or accept a nomination, and was in no mood of attending to his private practice.

Friday evening Mr. Neill dined with Mr. Croker at the Windsor Hotel. A gentleman who saw him at the University Club that night was told by him that he had not decided whether to withdraw or not.

The whole matter, it was said, hinged on whether Mr. Neill was willing to allow Mr. Croker to dictate who his assistant should be.

Mr. Neill said Mr. Croker again last night and gave him a decided answer. That was the statement which was printed this morning.

"As a matter of fact," said a well-known Tammany Hall leader, "Mr. Neill didn't want the nomination. He just wanted to have it. We were unanimous, but when he suggested Wellman's name he was told that Wellman could not be nominated, nor could he be re-appointed as an assistant."

REUNION OF THE GRANTS.

The Family Gathers to Bid Adieu to Mrs. Sartoris.

A pleasant gathering at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this afternoon was the meeting of the members of the family of the lamented Gen. U. S. Grant. Those present were Mrs. Grant, the widow Mrs. Sartoris, her daughter, and her three sons, Col. U. S. Grant, Jr., and Ulysses S. Grant, and his wife, Mrs. Sartoris and her family, who will sail for England to-morrow on the Paris. The party will dine en famille to-night, and Mrs. Sartoris, the boy's godmother, will go to the Paris in the morning.

YOUNG, BUT A HORSE THIEF.

Thomas O'Brien Caught with His Stolen R.R.

Thomas O'Brien, seventeen years old, was held in the Harlem Police Court this morning on a charge of stealing a horse and wagon from Benjamin C. Winters, an expressman at 200 West Twenty-first street.

O'Brien was arrested at Ninety-second street, about half past ten yesterday afternoon. He was drunk, and was driving the horse uptown. He had stolen the rig from Thirteenth street, and, upon being questioned, gave the absence of the driver, who had gone inside to deliver a parcel.

STOLE WINE AND STORED IT.

Peter Nealis, of 26 Peart street, and Jerry Kieseker, of 29 Peart street, were held to $100 bail by Justice Smith in the Tombs Court this morning for a larceny of $100. O'Brien was arrested at Ninety-second street, about half past ten yesterday afternoon. He was drunk, and was driving the horse uptown. He had stolen the rig from Thirteenth street, and, upon being questioned, gave the absence of the driver, who had gone inside to deliver a parcel.

Wagon and Poultney Gone.

Joseph Beck, of 58 Jefferson avenue, Brooklyn, reported to the East Sixtieth street police station that his wagon and team had been stolen in West Seventeenth street early this morning. The wagon was loaded with fruit and poultry, and was valued at $7 Washington Market. An alarm was sent out.

Political Notes.

A regular meeting of the Barnes Democratic Club will be held in the sub-hall to-morrow evening.

Consellor Louis Lowenstein of the Pulitzer Building will stand the Seventh and Ninth Avenue Districts. District Attorney James J. O'Brien, the Tammany candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court, will be nominated.

Most VENICE, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The democrat who nominated John Ferry for the Assembly from this district say that the present campaign will be a long one, and that the victory of Westchester County. The Republicans will make a fight for the election of their entire county ticket, and will be supported by the Tammany men.

They will make a combination, but it is generally conceded that John Ferry, the present representative, will be nominated by a good majority. A. H. Morris, who was nominated by Senator by the Democrats, says he is confident of success.

Physicians from the Health Board Meet Little Opposition.

The Stores of Le Bouillier and Adams & Co. Visited To-Day.

The work of vaccinating the employees of dry-goods houses was commenced this morning, and before noon the sanitary inspector, Mr. Blanehard, of 61 West Washington street, one of the complainants, visited both Le Bouillier's, on Sixth street, and Adams & Co., on Sixth and Seventh streets, were either vaccinated or had exhibited their independence in defiance of the walkers, and Health Board physician.

Le Bouillier, who is probably the one man in the city who could tell the nominees of the City and County Convention of Tammany Hall to-night will be won't tell, and all the state-makers can do it to make guess. Here are their latest guess:
